

Nomination of Catherine Slessor for election as President of the Society

PROPOSER

As a current member of The Twentieth Century Society who is entitled to vote at the Annual General Meeting I propose Catherine Slessor for election as President of The Twentieth Century Society

Peter Ruback

11 May 2021

Catherine Slessor is an architectural critic, editor and writer. Currently she is a Contributing Editor to the Architectural Review and was its Editor between 2010 and 2015. She has written for numerous publications, including the Observer, Guardian, Architects' Journal, Icon and Dezeen. She studied architecture at the University of Edinburgh and was in private practice for a time before defecting into journalism. She also holds a Masters degree in Architectural History and Theory from the Bartlett School of Architecture, University College London. In 2016 she was awarded an MBE for services to architectural journalism.