BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY OF NOMINEE

(About a hundred words outlining career, and what I will bring to the Society)

I believe that I can use my broad experience in the private sector to help further the Society's aims, and that my practical experience in the technology and digital space can be of particular value.

I have worked as a consultant, and more recently founded my own technology startup and sold it in a multi-million dollar transaction in 2022.

I have extensive experience of designing, building and buying technology products and solutions, and can help support these processes at the Society, steering clear of common pitfalls and making sure that the Society serves the needs of members and its aims while achieving best value for money.

I'm excited to be able to give something back to an organisation that serves both a personal passion and national interest.
